Listening to our community

My approach to making our area better and better is simply listening – really listening – to the interests of residents and businesses and then taking action.

During my street meetings in the past weeks, I shared our residents' concerns on a number of issues, in particular the abandoned shopping trolleys and graffiti in our local area.

At last week's Council Meeting, I called for the Council to immediately impound trolleys that are in a dangerous location to ensure the safety and security of our communities, and to investigate options so Council can remove graffiti from private property legally.

We are working hard on areas we need to manage better; meanwhile Council's Easter Celebrations is in full swing this week; you can view more on the right column. Looking ahead, preparations are now underway for our Anzac Day March and Dawn Service to be held at 6am on Thursday, 25 April in Burwood Park.

As the weather cools and the leaves fall, I encourage you all to get out and enjoy our beautiful area.
